When you create something from nothing, with your own hands, there comes a certain satisfaction. And when you take that thing you built and give it to someone else, something else is created. Some might call it "Christmas Spirit". Some might call it love. I'd like you to meet five elderly elves. They are creators, and givers. And they are my Heroes.

Our Eric's Heroes story this week is a Christmas story. It involves elves in a workshop, and children who love toys, and time-worn idea that never goes out of fashion: "It is better to give than to receive." When you meet "The Sawdusters", you will believe it more than ever. Eric's Heroes, Toinight, 6pm, KOMO News
